

SkyPostal Announces Partnership with Carvajal Group

MIAMI & BOGOTA – December 3, 2009. SkyPostal Networks, Inc. (OTC BB: SKPN), the largest private postal network in Latin America, today announced that it has entered into a partnership agreement with Cargraphics S.A., member of the Carvajal Group of Companies. The partnership consists of joining the second largest printer in Latin America with SkyPostal's mail and publication distribution network to offer a seamless turnkey service that includes production, printing and distribution of periodicals and publications to Latin America, United States, Europe and rest of the world.

For many years, Colombia has been the leader in Latin America in providing printing and logistics solutions for publishers and editors from abroad. Cargraphics S.A. specializes in the production and printing of periodicals and publications, with the highest quality standards and technology in the industry at lower costs than printing in the US or Europe.

Both Cargraphics and SkyPostal have set up complete operations in the Free Trade Zone by Eldorado Airport in Bogota. This provides a cost advantage on printing costs, since paper, ink and printing materials remain in the Free Trade Zone and do not enter the country, thus avoiding import duties. SkyPostal's hub operation processes mail and periodicals right off the printing presses. Its partnership agreement with the Colombian National Post permits SkyPostal to have the Post's franking machines on premise. Periodicals and publications are processed and sent overnight directly into the United States Postal Service, European Posts or into SkyPostal's private postal hand delivery network in Latin America.
